The Grand Canyon Chamber of Commerce invites community members to participate in this Town Hall forum to discuss the potential benefits of rebranding our town with the goal of enhancing the local economy. Speakers with significant experience in tourism branding, marketing, and public relations have been invited to address this important topic at the Town Hall session. Representatives from Rainmaker Integrated and Owens Harkey will speak on the topic of branding and answer questions from the public. This forum is a beginning point and the voices of community members are needed. The goal of the evening program is to begin to explore, from a business perspective, what rebranding entails and what the positive returns might be.
